THE ALL-INDIA XI DEFY SUSSEX AT HOVE

C.K. NAIDU SCORES 67

OXFORD FRESHMAN'S SUCCESS AGAINST YORKSHIRE.

HOBBS CONTINUES BRILLIANT

The All-Indian touring eleven have come through their first big match in English cricket with flying colours. At the close of play at Hove yesterday Sussex required 155 runs for victory with eight wickets in hand. The visitors secured a narrow first innings lead of 14 runs, Maurice Tate causing the most anxiety by capturing half the wickets for 34 runs.

In the only County Championship game on the programme Lancashire, thanks to Sibbles (11 for 92) secured the maximum points at the expense of Worcestershire. At Oxford, E. A. Barlow, who captained Shrewsbury last season, captured 6 Yorkshire wickets for 44 runs.

Jack Hobbs (75), Percy Holmes (110) and "Tich" Freeman (5 for 34) proved that the veterans have yet a passing interest in the affairs of cricket. It will be recalled that Hobbs took 82 off the Worcestershire bowling in the first match of the season.

Full results as cabled by Reuters were as follows:

County Championship.
Lancashire defeated Worcestershire by an innings and 2 runs at Manchester.

Lancs.: 238.
Worcesters.: 70 (Sibbles 6 for 24); 166 (Sibbles 5 for 68).
Friendlies.

Kent defeated Cambridge University by an innings and 11 runs at Cambridge.

Cambridge: 153 and 95 (Freeman 5 for 34).
Kent: 259.

Yorkshire defeated Oxford University by 162 runs at Oxford.

Yorkshire: 229 for 6 dec. (Holmes 110);
Oxford: 145 and 119 (Smalles 5 for 36).

Indian Tour.

Sussex drew with the All-India touring eleven at Hove.

All-India: 236 (Tate 5 for 34);
247 for 6 dec. (C. K. Naidu 67, Lall Singh 29 not out).
Sussex: 222 (Naidu 5 for 69);
107 for 2.

Surrey drew with the M.C.C. at Lord's.

M.C.C.: 158 for 8 dec.
Surrey: 149 for 2 (Hobbs 75).

Note by Cricketer.

Sibbles opened the season in a sensational manner, being responsible for the dismissal of Worcestershire for scores of 70 and 166. Lancashire consequently gained a comfortable victory to head the Championship table, being the only County to have secured maximum points to date.

Sibbles, who is a medium paced bowler, had an average of 18.48 for 82 wickets in the Championship last season. At his best he is a most useful all-rounder. Last season, however, he experienced a very lean season in the batting line.

Indians Impress.

The other important match on the programme was staged at Hove where the Indian tourists held Sussex to a draw despite good bowling by Maurice Tate. C. K. Naidu, the brilliant Indian batsman, scored 67 out of 247 in the second innings, receiving some support from Lall Singh who was undefeated for 29 when the innings was declared closed. Excellent bowling was responsible for the dismissal of Sussex when 14 runs short of the Indians' first innings total, Nazir Ali (Patiala) claiming half the wickets for 69 runs.

Meeting Duleepsinhji.
An interesting feature of this game was that the Indian tourists met a team under the captaincy of a player who was invited to lead the All-Indian eleven. K. S. Duleepsinhji the Sussex captain, however, thought it best to be on the safe side and recognise the claims of England in view of the coming tour of Australia. There is no mention in the cable of "Duleep" making a score and it must have caused great jubilation in the Indian camp when this doughty opponent was cheaply dismissed.

Oxford Freshman's Success.

Both Universities fared poorly against two of the "Big Six." Cambridge could total only 248 in the two innings. "Tich" Freeman again getting in among the wickets in the second innings. Oxford totalled 264 in the two innings against Yorkshire. Smalles, a new recruit to the ranks of the White Rose, commenced the season well with 5 wickets for 36 runs. Holmes again showed that he is still a power in the land as a batsman by scoring 110 out of 229 for 6. The most interesting feature of the match was the success of E. A. Barlow, the Oxford Freshman. Captain of the Shrewsbury eleven last season he headed the batting averages with an average of 32.77 for nine innings. He also had much success with the ball as he bowled the most number of overs and took 47 wickets for 780 runs per wicket. To commence the season in such form and to achieve success against a strong side such as Yorkshire leads one to expect big things from him this season. He has certainly started on the right path for a Blue.

Jack Hobbs Again.

The match at Lord's seems to have been affected by rain as only 307 runs were scored for the loss of ten wickets in the three days available. Jack Hobbs was again in the limelight with an innings of 75, this following his innings for 82 against Worcestershire last week-end. Judging by his present form it seems highly probable that the Selection Committee will again make representations to him to make the Australian tour this coming winter.

TRIBUTE TO BRITAIN.

Warm Praise from U.S. Ambassador.

"COURAGE AND REAL CAPACITY."

Strengthening The Credit Structure.

London, Yesterday.

The United States Ambassador, Mr. Andrew Mellon, formerly Secretary to the Treasury was welcomed to the City at a Mansion House luncheon to-day presided over by the Lord Mayor.

Replying to a toast Mr. Mellon referred to the dire predictions he had heard expressed during the crisis in England last autumn. Knowing the steadiness, courage and real capacity of the British people, he said, he never for one minute doubted that they would rise to the occasion and surmount their difficulties as they always did in a great emergency. Similarly, their faith in America was fully justified.

The American Congress was seeking a means to levy over one billion dollars of new taxes and there was a very clear understanding of what should and must be done by party leaders and by the President, who had shown leadership of the highest order in submitting a programme of legislation designed to strengthen the credit structure and restore confidence.—British Wireless Service.

A Chinese detective of the French Police was killed, a pedestrian wounded and several robbers arrested during a running gun battle between a search party and a party of armed gangsters, who were ordered to halt, but instead, opened fire with large Mausers. The robbers fled, firing for a considerable distance, and many foreigners who were proceeding to the theatres were involuntary witnesses of an exciting gun battle.

STATEMENT BY D.P.W. ON SHORTAGE

REPLY TO SUGGESTIONS BY LOCAL DOCTOR

COST OF LAYING DOWN PIPES FOR SEA WATER TOO GREAT.

HOPES FOR THE SHING MUN SCHEME

That the introduction of sea water as a substitute for fresh water for certain domestic purposes, such as flush systems, washing, and bathing was out of the question owing to the heavy cost of laying down a fresh set of special non-corrosive pipes, was explained to a "China Mail" representative by an official of the Public Works Department in an interview to-day.

The scheme, which was turned down by the Government as far back as 1921, was not impossible from the engineering point of view, but as the cost would be so great, and as the authorities hoped to eliminate further shortages in future when the new service reservoir in the Botanical Gardens was completed (with a storage of 5,000,000 gallons), it was not thought necessary to give the matter any further consideration.

"The question of the use of sea water for certain domestic purposes was laid before the Legislative Council in September, 1921, by order of H.E. Sir Reginald Stubbs," stated the Hon. Mr. H. T. Creasy, C.B.E., Director of Public Works, in an interview with a "China Mail" representative. "However, owing to the cost of such undertaking, it was not considered a feasible proposition."

Referring to the views expressed by Dr. H. Balean to our representative yesterday, another official of the P.W.D. pointed out that whilst it was correct to state that residents of Hong Kong were using on an average 22 gallons per head per day, it was not true that this amount was in excess of the quantity required for normal uses. In some towns in England and Scotland the daily average per head was as much as 40 gallons and more.

Hard on Householders.
The cost of laying down a complete set of new pipes would be very heavy, added our informant, and in the case of owners of large properties, it would be a great

LOCAL CINEMA ADVERTISING.

Needs "Pepping-Up"

VIEWS OF "FRANKENSTEIN" REPRESENTATIVE.

Mr. Norman Westwood, manager of Universal Pictures Corporation of China, arrived in Hong Kong last night with the "Frankenstein" monster, on the s.s. President Jefferson.

Mr. Westwood is the "father" of the motion picture business in the Far East, and expressed an opinion to a "China Mail" representative, that the cinema advertising in Hong Kong needs "pepping up."

The giant effigy brought from Shanghai by Mr. Westwood, is a model of the monster in Universal's latest picture, "Frankenstein" which broke all records in Shanghai and Canton for box office receipts. The figure stands 11 feet tall and weighs 90 lb, being mounted on wheels for parade on the streets. Much speculation was caused among the passengers on the Star Ferry this morning, when the effigy, erected on a steam launch crossed the harbour.

In 15 years in the motion picture publicity business, Mr. Westwood is convinced that it is the most realistic thing he has put over.

A group of Universal artists are expected to pass through the Colony shortly, on their way to Siam, to make a jungle picture. Nothing definite has been fixed about this yet but the players will probably pass through next month.

LAUSANNE PARLEY.

Britain Has Suggestions for the Agenda.

APPROVED BY JAPAN.

London, Yesterday.

Work in preparation for the Lausanne Conference on June 16 is engaging the close attention of the British Government, which has advanced some suggestions for the agenda. These contemplate that the work before the Conference will be taken in three stages. In the first stage the Powers would discuss German Reparations. The second stage would deal with Reparations by Austria, Hungary and Bulgaria.

In the final stage the Conference would deal with wider matters such as the Danubian question, currency and other cognate. This suggested outline for the agenda been approved by Germany and Japan.—British Wireless Service.

SHANGHAI-NANKING RAILWAY TO RESUME.

Ten Days After Evacuation.

[From Our Own Correspondent.]

Shanghai, To-day.
Although the date of resumption of the full service of the Shanghai-Nanking Railway depends on how long it will take the Japanese troops to evacuate the railway zone, a resumption of through traffic is expected in a few days after the evacuation, according to the official Japanese statement.

FRENCH PRESIDENT ON VERGE OF DEATH

FAMILY HASTILY SUMMONED TO HIS BEDSIDE

ASSASSIN MAKES DRAMATIC CONFESSION TO POLICE.

PARTIAL RECOVERY AFTER BLOOD TRANSFUSION

The condition of President Doumer is reported to be so grave that the members of his family, as well as M. Tardieu, the Prime Minister, have been summoned to his bedside.

The French President, who is 76, was fired at from point blank range whilst travelling in his car to open the Exposition du Livre, where he was to have inaugurated the Soldiers' Exhibition. All the shots lodged in the victim's abdomen.

His assailant, a Russian named Dr. Gougouloff, who was arrested immediately after the crime, declared to the Police that it was "his duty to do it." He added that he was a great Russian patriot. As he was taken to the Prefecture the crowds outside howled "Death to the Assassin!"

REACTION IN FRANCE.

Paris, To-day.

M. Tardieu, one of the first callers upon President Doumer, on leaving the hospital, said that M. Doumer recognised him and when the eminent surgeon, Professor Gossel, arrived said: "Hullo, there's Gossel!"

Mr. Doumer's assailant, was born at Lapenskaya in 1895. After a long silence he told the Police that he wanted to kill the President because France was helping the Bolsheviks.

The reaction throughout the country at the first outstanding political crime by a Russian Fascist, may be expected to have a decisive effect on Sunday's second ballot at the Parliamentary

Even if Gougouloff is insane, his crime will probably recoil on the thousands of Russian emigres who have taken refuge in Paris and France generally. — Reuters.

Blood Transfusions.

"Two blood transfusions have worked a miracle," declared the surgeon, Dr. Gossel.

President Doumer is now resting.

President von Hindenburg has telegraphed to M. Doumer expressing his indignation and hoping for his speedy recovery. Similar messages were sent by King George and King Albert.

A bulletin issued at 8.30 p.m., says that his condition is still very grave.

The President of the Central Committee of Russian Refugees has issued a statement expressing his horror at the crime.

The Police are wondering whether Gougouloff is deliberately throwing dust in their eyes by his insistence that he is an anti-Bolshevik.

Family Summoned.

It was announced at 1.30 a.m. that President Doumer's condition is so grave that the members of his family and Mr. Tardieu have been summoned to his bedside.

Paris, Yesterday.

A slight improvement is shown in M. Doumer's condition, but his doctors are unable to make any pronouncement regarding his fate for several hours yet.

An eye-witness, the manager of the Paris Theatre, said she was puzzled by a big man who seemed very nervous and was wearing heavy black glasses. She saw him ask the author, Claude Farrere, to autograph three books and then, as M. Doumer crossed the room to greet Farrere, the shots rang out in quick succession. M. Doumer waved his arm and collapsed unconscious to the ground, while his assailant was disarmed by the Minister of Defence, who seized the Russian's wrist.

Dr. Gougouloff, who was neatly dressed, recited at the Police Station a short explanation in a level, colourless voice, his eyes gazing into space and his head high.

"They've Killed Him!"

A Swiss woman who lived at Monaco with Gougouloff is being brought to Paris. Those near to M. Doumer when he was hit heard him say: "It is possible."

The public first thought that the shots were explosions from photographers' magnesium. Immediately after the crime a woman rushed out of the exhibition, holding a bloodstained book and hysterically shouting "They've killed him!"

Grandson's Statement.

President Doumer's grandson, on leaving the Hospital, said that no essential organ had been hit but he feared that the President's age (seventy-six) would tell against him.

The President's head wound is the least serious. One bullet traversed his face, including his nose, and the other severed the axillary, but not the maxillary artery.

Russian Patriot.

Gougouloff told the Police that he was a great Russian patriot, and said: "I know you are going to kill me but it was my duty to do what I have done. I am a great admirer of Hitler and Mussolini, but I have never received money from them."

A blue notebook was found in his pocket containing "the confessions of Gougouloff, who killed the President of the French Republic." As he was taken to the Prefecture he raised his handcuffed hands to heaven in prayer while the crowd was howling "Death to the assassin!"

New York And London Stocks

Market Overcomes All Obstacles On N.Y. Exchange

ADVANCE DUE TO SHORT COVERING

New York, April 27.
The market overcame all obstacles on the New York Stock Exchange to-day and most of the stocks retained their previous gains, says the daily review of the Dow Jones Financial News Agency for the Wall Street Journal.
Activity increased and later some selling began, but it was easily absorbed.
The advance was attributed partly to short covering which was induced by the Administration's efforts to obtain action on the tax bill and defeat the proposed bonus bill for war veterans.
The elimination of U.S. Steel Corporation common dividend yesterday did not affect the market, which had discounted this action in advance, in spite of a deficit of $319,000,000 after paying dividends on preferred stock. U.S. Steel opened at 28 1/2, even with yesterday's close, immediately jumped to 29 1/2, receded to 28 1/2, and then 28 1/2, and moved back to 28 1/2 by noon to close finally up to 29 1/2.
"Iron Age" magazine estimated that steel output production was 23 per cent. of capacity.
The automobile industry continued slow but was optimistic. There was no important price change. General Motors held at 11 1/2, Chrysler closed up a quarter to 13 1/2, Packard was up an eighth to 23 1/2, and Auburn, opening up a half to 41 1/2, went to 42 1/2 in the course of the morning's trading but closed off 7/8 to 39 1/2.
General Motors reported earnings for the first quarter of 17 cents a share in comparison with 61 cents for the same period of 1931. U.S. Steel showed a net loss of $319,000,000 for the first quarter, after allowing for depreciation, interest, depletion and federal taxes.
The Dow Jones average for 30 Industrials was up 1.57 to 61.28 in to-day's trading. That for 20 rails was up .37 to 23.55, that for 20 utilities was up .69 to 25.80, and that for 40 bonds was again off, by 12 to 75.99.
Business done amounted to 1,100,000 shares. Call money remained at 2 1/2 per cent.

SHARE MARKET.

Weekly Reports by Brokers.

CARROLL BROS.

Hong Kong, Friday, May 6.

There is very little to report about the Share Market for the past week as rates have been very steady and the volume of business negotiated was certainly not very large. During the early part of the week Cements commanded a good deal of attention, and a fairly large number of shares changed hands for cash and forward delivery, but at the close this stock is just as much neglected as the rest. Banks and Unions are better, and a fair number of sales recorded, due to the slight drop in the rate of exchange. Banks:—After small sales of Banks at $1,520, there is a further demand for shares at $1,530. Insurances:—Unions have improved to a buying rate of $485, after sales at $465/490. A small parcel of Underwriters was sold at $4.05, and there are further small enquiries at this rate, with sellers holding off for $4.10. Shipping:—Stocks under this heading are absolutely neglected with but one exception, i.e. Union Waterboats, which are wanted at $19 1/2.

Mining:—Raub's are offering at $36, with no buyers at anything near this figure. Benquet Explorations are just a shade better, with buyers now offering 31 cents. Lands, Hotels and Buildings:—Hong Kong Hotels were sold at $13.10/13.15, and it is possible to obtain shares at the close at about $13.00. Hotel 'Rights' can be obtained at $2.50. After sales at $76 1/4/77. Hong Kong Lands are still wanted at $77. Hong Kong Realty are on the easy side, with sellers at $11.45, and no buyers at the moment. Sales were negotiated early in the week at $11.55/11.45. A small business was done in Humphreys shares at $15.50, and buyers are now offering $15.

Cotton Mills:—Ewo Cottons are steady, with buyers at Tails 13.25, and Sellers at Tails 13.35. There is a fair demand for shares for forward delivery. Docks, Wharves and Godowns:—Kowloon Wharves are wanted at $142, with no business reported. A fair business was done in China Providents, old, during the week at $4.90/5.00. At the close buyers will not pay more than $4.90, with shares available at 5 cents higher. Public Utilities:—Hong Kong Trams were sold at $22/22.10, and appear to be slightly easier with further sellers at $22. A few Star Ferries were dealt in at $90, and further shares would probably find buyers at this rate. Yaumati Ferries, old and new, are wanted at $31 and $30, respectively. China Lights are a steady market at quotations with more buyers than sellers. Hong Kong Electric are quiet, with small sellers at $73. Hong Kong Telephones are steady with buyers at $24, and sellers at $24 1/2. Miscellaneous:—Canton Icees are wanted at the slightly lower rate of $4 1/2. Cements attracted a good deal of attention during the past week, and some large parcels of shares changed hands at $18.65/18.85. Hong Kong Ropes are very steady with buyers at $14.20, after sales at this rate. Dairy Farms are a shade better, with buyers offering $27.85. Lane Crawfords have improved to a buying rate of $6.50 for the old shares. A limited business was done at $6.80. Sinceres are still wanted at $17.50, with no business reported. Exchange:—To-day's rate of Exchange on London T.T. is 1/2%, and on Shanghai 76. Forward Settlement Days:—May 25, and June 28, 1932.

Impressions of Germany

An English Girl In Brunswick

A SHORT time ago an article entitled "Impressions of England," by a German girl, appeared in the "Manchester Guardian," and I thought I should like to return the compliment and write a little about Germany.

I quite agree with the writer of the previous article that our English tea is much better, but the Germans have us beaten for coffee, which they grind themselves, so that it is always fresh and therefore very strong. Of course, tea is very dear, about six or eight shillings a pound for quite a poor quality and

The Germans are very polite to strangers, and it is rather quaint to see little girls, and even big ones, dropping curtsies to people older than themselves. The first time a girl of about eighteen, much taller than I, did that to me I felt most embarrassed. If you meet a friend it is a real insult to omit to send your kind regards to the family even if you have seen them the same day; and, if you come home from the theatre or cinema in the evening everybody says on parting, "Good night. Sleep well," in the most friendly manner. Sometimes people ask me how to say some of their polite expressions in English, and I have to confess that they are untranslatable, for we never use them. One common one means, roughly, "I hope you arrive home safely," (after a visit), but we should hardly think it necessary to say that to a visitor who lived a hundred yards down the street.

German Women.

I regret that I cannot return the German girl's compliment with regard to the women of the two countries, for I do not find the average German woman anything like so good-looking as her English sister. This does not mean that there are no pretty girls here. On the contrary, some of the most beautiful women I have seen were Germans; but there are so many who do not take much interest in their appearance. They are mostly neatly dressed, even the poor ones, and for the evening they make more effort, but they seem to choose their clothes with little taste, and often have a strange mixture of colours. School-girls can hardly be distinguished from their mothers, for they are much bigger and more developed than English girls, and their dresses are long and made in a grown-up style. Even the children wear long stockings right through the Summer, unless they are playing in what they call training-suits when they wear none at all. It is really surprising to see the number of women with long hair, and many of them still drag it back tightly from the face and wear it in a bun.

Everything is very orderly here, as a rule, and there are strict regulations about keeping the streets clean and tidy, so that there are no bits of paper lying about or orange-peel dropped on the pavement. The people, like the traffic, keep to the right, and a man is always on the left of his woman companion, so that there is none of the familiar changing over every time they cross the street.

The most picturesque costume seen here is that of the carpenters and is quite unlike anything we have in England. There are different unions, each of which has its own dress, but they are all similar in general. A carpenter wears a black velvet jacket with big pearl buttons, white trousers which are narrow at the top but very wide at the bottom and have a red stripe down the seam, a huge black hat often flapping round his shoulders, and one earring. He frequently carries a murderous looking stick of twisted and beautifully polished wood. Other variations of this out-

Good Cake-Makers

It is not difficult to find people who cook. It is infinitely difficult to find a good cook. When found, she has to be kept in cotton wool and as a rule it is only the "single gent." who doesn't interfere and doesn't go into accounts who manages to retain her. That is to say there is a great opening in this country for the really good cook. Primarily, of course, there is domestic service which is crying out for the good cook. That is more or less a commonplace. And domestic service is not always suited to the taste of those who would like to be cooks and who have a talent for the business. But besides domestic service there are a number of ways in which a girl who has really made herself good at the job can find positions suited to her talents. There is the cake-maker for one thing. Most people's cakes are either bad or have no distinction at all. A really good sponge-cake, or indeed any other kind of cake, invariably evokes demands for recipes, which one may not always feel inclined to give. Cake-making is very hard work and it is apt to become impersonal if too large batches of cakes are made at the same time. Also people want cakes in a hurry and they want them all at once, and of many different kinds. Granted an aptitude for hard work, however, money can be made in cake-making, and people's gratitude for something even reasonably tasty is infinite.

fit are black trousers and silk hats, but they are all equally strange to a foreigner.

It would be impossible to mention here everything that is new and interesting, and I can only give these few instances of general observations in a short article, but I should not like to finish without praising what seems to me the Germans' most striking characteristic—that is, their courage. Everybody knows what a difficult time this great nation is going through at present, and it says much for their patience that they have stood their hardships so long. We have a great deal to admire in them and to learn from their example. They take a keen interest in all that happens on our little island, and even local newspapers report at length on such matters as the return of Eros to Piccadilly Circus or the English custom of sending Valentines on February 14.

RECTOR'S BEAUTY RECIPE.

Economy Hint.

THE Rector of Christchurch (Hants), Canon W. H. Gay, has presented his woman parishioners with a free beauty recipe.

After commenting in his parish magazine about the money spent on creams and powders, he says: "Oh, my sisters, what an utter waste of money" and adds:

"Let me present you with a prescription which, if followed, will save you a lot of money and which will preserve your schoolgirl complexion far more effectively than those messy and sticky compounds. "Wash your face in hot water, using ordinary soap. Fill the jug with boiling water, and, putting a towel over your head, hold your face over the jug, thereby permitting the imprisoned steam to penetrate into the pores of your skin. Finally, bathe the face with ordinary cold water, using no soap."

FREQUENTLY even the most expensive of silk stockings lose their colour when they are washed, and seem to become a little paler after each wash. If when the stockings are washed for the first time they are rinsed in water to which has been added two table-spoonfuls of vinegar there will not be any danger of their losing colour. This solution both clears and fixes the colour of the stockings and is a precaution well worth taking.

CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP

THE BLACK DEVIL OF ALL-IN WRESTLING

JIM WANGO TELLS HOW HE THRILLS HIS SPECTATORS

DEFENCE OF SHOWMANSHIP

STANDING OPPONENTS ON THEIR HEADS CAUSES THE DAMAGE.

Jim Wango, commonly known as The Black Devil, is one of the best exponents of the all-in wrestling craze which is now sweeping over England with devastating strides.

Born in the African forests Wango first took up boxing at the early age of sixteen. Twelve years ago he defeated the dreaded Battling Siki, but his love for wrestling made him give up his ring career after a very brief period.

When I enter the ring I am there to fight. I am glad that "all-in" wrestling is becoming a popular sport. It is the kind of fighting I like best.

Once I was a boxer. Maybe twelve years ago I fought and beat Battling Siki. That was just before he beat Carpentier. Then I took to wrestling, and learned all the styles. Greco-Roman, Jiu-jitsu, catch-as-catch-can—I learned all of them.

Very Fond of It. Now I have taken to a sport where I can combine all of them. It gives me more chance. I am getting very fond of "all-in" wrestling.

I am told that there is a lot of showmanship in my wrestling. Well, perhaps there is. I like the spectators to enjoy themselves. So long as showmanship is not going to interfere with my wrestling, I do not mind entertaining the crowd.

Sign of Confidence. That is why, when I first enter the ring, I beat my chest and make it sound like a drum. Then I slap the muscles of my arms with the hollow of my hand.

There is more in this than just showmanship, though. It is a sign of confidence when a man can have his fun just before a fight. I have no nerves. When my opponent sees this, he is often a little afraid.

When I start fighting I am no longer light-hearted. "All-in" wrestling is a rough game. A false move or a moment's hesitation and you may get badly hurt, writes Jim Wango in The Topical Times. I am in deadly earnest from the start.

First Few Minutes Decide. I am a coloured man, so I know I must not take any liberties in the ring. For the first minute or two of the bout, I study my opponent's methods. I see if he is fighting Greco-Roman style or catch-as-catch-can. Then I fight him in his own style.

My object is always to tire my opponent out. When a man is fresh and strong, it is almost impossible to keep his shoulder blades on the floor for three seconds. So I try to make him so sick of life that he will give in.

Standing Them on Their Heads. A few bad falls beat a man quicker than anything. If I can heave my man over the ropes, I think that when he hits the floor it is like getting a hard punch on the jaw. He is bound to suffer from the effects. Probably the most effective trick of all is to hold your man upside down by his feet and bump his head on the floor.

When I first took up this "all-in" wrestling I was caught like this. I was winning my fight but made the mistake of taking things too easily. Then suddenly I found myself upside down and helpless and my head was striking the floor.

Nearly Insensible. By the time I could free myself (I walked forward on my hands and then kicked backwards with my feet) I was nearly insensible. I shall never make that mistake again.

That is how we learn our wrestling.

I am very crafty in my fighting. I am a big man, but there are many bigger. I know it is useless to go at them like a bull. But I am very fit and I can wear them out.

Until I was sixteen I used to hunt and fish all day in African forests. That made me fit and gave me stamina. It is very useful, especially against the big fellows.

The Power of Yielding. With them I use all my Jiu-jitsu tricks. The secret of Jiu-jitsu is the power to yield to your opponent. After about five minutes he thinks that he must be winning easily. Not only has he tired himself out with chasing you round the ring, he is also possessed of a false confidence.

That is when I jump into him and go all out for a quick win. Yes, it is a great game this "all-in" wrestling.

DAVIS CUP RESULTS.

Playing in their first match of the 1932 Davis Cup contest here to-day the Japanese singles players gained two victories to place Japan in a satisfactory position in their Second Round encounter with Greece.

Athens, Yesterday. Jiro Sato, considered by many to be a coming world champion, found little difficulty in winning his match in straight sets. Full results as cabled by Reuter were as follows:—
Jiro Sato (Japan) beat Bullis (Greece) 6-0, 6-3, 6-3.
Kawabara (Japan) beat Garangiotis (Greece) 4-6, 5-7, 7-5, 6-1, 10-8.

FIELD FLOOD AND RING

By Athole

Creighton Again.

Jack Creighton, the welterweight champion of the Colony, last Saturday won the Welterweight Championship of China when he gained a points decision over Young Alde at the Shanghai Auditorium after ten rounds. A large crowd witnessed a very close fight in which Creighton concentrated on body punches. Alde, however, was too clever for him and he was unable to secure a knock out. The judges' decision was favourably received as Creighton fully deserved his victory, though he led by only a very narrow margin in points.

Easy for "Stinnie"

"Stinnie" Morris, another local favourite, was also engaged in the same programme. He, however, had an easy victory, as Sgt. Martello of the 31st U.S. Infantry was forced to retire, the towel being thrown into the ring at the conclusion of the sixth round, when Martello was almost counted out.

Leaving the Colony.

Mr. A. E. Silkstone, a well-known local sportsman, is leaving the Colony to-day on the Ranpura on home leave. It will be recalled that Mr. Silkstone skipped one of the Hong Kong rinks in the last Interport Bowls encounter against Shanghai. In his youth Mr. Silkstone was also a very useful soccer player. He will disembark at Singapore on business and will then await the arrival of Mrs. Silkstone who leaves the Colony on the Chitral. Mr. L. Goldman, a very prominent local sportsman, also leaves by the Ranpura to-day.

Malayan in London.

Lall Singh, who fortunately for Hong Kong never struck his true form when playing against the Colony in the Triangular Interport cricket series, is now on his first visit to England. After a very enjoyable trip from India he arrived in London only to be overwhelmed by the immensity of the English capital. "It is so very big," he said to an interested spectator standing nearby. He spent most of the few free days before the Indian programme opened purchasing blazers and flannels for the strenuous tour.

Not Going to India.

There is little doubt attached to the fact that Lall Singh will return to Malaya at the conclusion of the tour unless of course Lancashire intend speculating. He has definitely decided not to return to India. "I never felt really comfortable there, although it is a very fine country." He has already shown good form against a very strong side got together by Major Scott and has dispelled all doubts regarding the problem of different light and conditions in general.

Boy Wonder.

Eric Fiddian, the new English amateur golf champion, is only 22 years old. He came into prominence in 1927 when he won the Boys' Championship, and at the age of 19 he was selected to play for England. He played against Scotland and Ireland in 1929, 1930 and 1931. In 1930 he was in the last eight in the amateur championship and broke two course records—69 at Stourbridge and 73 at Harlech.

Lead Changes Six Times.

It was a thrilling struggle in this year's Amateur Final. At the end of the first 18 holes Bradshaw was one up, and in the second round the lead changed six times, before Fiddian succeeded in winning by one up.

Motherwell's First.

This is the first year that Motherwell has won the Scottish League Championship since its inception in 1891, when the Rangers and Dumbarton tied for the honours. The Championship has been practically monopolised by two teams, the Rangers and Celtic, for out of the 42 seasons played, Rangers have been Champions on 20 occasions, including their tie with Dumbarton, and the Celtic on 17 occasions. Dumbarton have won the championship once, excepting their tie with the Rangers, Hearts twice, and the Hibernians once. Ever since 1906, the championship has been divided between Celtic and the Rangers.

Everton's Triumph.

Dixie Dean, of whom little has been heard of late, scored his 45th goal in First Division football last Saturday when Everton won the Championship by a goal to nil victory over Bolton Wanderers. A crowd of 35,000 witnessed the triumph of Everton who have flouted the challenge of the Arsenal, throughout the season. On the same day Bourton, the Coventry City centre forward, broke the individual goal-scoring record for the Third Division (South) when he scored one of the City's three goals against Wulford to bring his tally for the season up to 49.

Epic Match at Hawthorns.

The most remarkable match in the Home Football programme last Saturday was the one witnessed at the Hawthorns when Grimsby snatched two points from West Bromwich after a game which produced eleven goals. At half time the teams were on level terms with three goals apiece. In the second half the visiting goalkeeper was injured and the Throstles took charge of the game. They added two further goals and appeared to have the match well in hand, but Grimsby staged a remarkable recovery in the closing minutes to win an epic encounter by the odd goal in eleven.

Blow To Britain.

For the next few months we will be receiving cable reports of Davis Cup matches, and the results will be watched with particular interest in view of the improvement in the strength of the British tennis. Unfortunately, the news that H. W. Austin is unavailable for the earlier rounds raises doubts concerning Britain's chances. Austin, whose physique is his main handicap, has been unable to obtain strenuous practice owing to illness. Whether he will recover in time to strike form for the final rounds was not explained in the cables. If he does not obtain plenty of tournament play before the end of June, Britain's prospects of winning the Cup are practically nil, as Perry is the only other English player of class, and he alone cannot prevail against the American and French teams.

Vines No. 1?

The first round matches played to date have not furnished any remarkable features, the most interesting being the annual Canada-United States clash. Canada has never been strong in tennis, and the Americans took their usual comfortable victory. The form of the young Californian sensation, Ellsworth N. Vines, who is expected to gain the world's No. 1 ranking this year, was not very convincing, but it is quite probable that he was lacking practice. The inclusion of Wilmer Allison as second string to Vines was surprising, but many of the leading players such as George Lott, John Doe, were not available. The American team is a strong one, and the youth of the players augurs well for the future.

French Defence.

Little has been heard of the French stars, and while it is known that the great Cochet will play, considerable doubt exists about Lacoste and Borotra. If the two latter do not regain their form of a few years ago, defence of the trophy will in all likelihood fall. Against either the best British or American team, France would need more than even Cochet to win, and while the younger players, Bernard particularly, are promising they are not yet in the same class as the famous "Three Musketeers" of 1926-1931.

Australia's Challenge.

While it is assumed that America will win the Pacific zone, the probability is by no means a sure one. Australia has entered the Pacific section this year and although the bright days of Brookes, Patterson and Anderson are past, Australia still places a formidable team in the field. Jack Crawford is one of the most brilliant exponents of the game in the world, and if he can maintain any semblance of consistency he is capable of defeating any of the Americans, Vines included. As it happens, Crawford is erratic and moody, but this year he has given indications of attaining better form than ever. H. O. Hopman, an excellent doubles player, is almost as dangerous as Crawford and the pair form a combination which will provide plenty of anxiety for the Americans. The latter are favourites, but the issue is an open one, with the prospects of a close and exciting contest.

HOPMAN DROPS BOMBSHELL.

Davis Cup Ultimatum Commented Upon.

AUSTRALIAN TROUBLES.

The Australian Lawn Tennis Association is having considerable trouble with the players selected to represent the Commonwealth in the Davis Cup Competition.

In the first instance J. Crawford insisted that his wife should accompany him. This the Council permitted and even went to the extent of approving of her contributing articles to the Press.

Hopman created a sensation when he demanded to contribute articles to the Press during the tour. His ultimatum came as a bomb-shell and it is not known how the question was decided.

Council to Blame.

Commenting on Hopman's action "The Referee" states:—"The Council has only itself to blame for the extraordinary situation. When it foolishly granted Mrs. Crawford equal status with the members of the team, and placed her under control of the captain-manager, it created a bad precedent, but ten thousand times worse was its approval of her right to become a Press woman."

When the matter was discussed at a meeting it was pointed out that the Council was treading on dangerous ground, and that it might lead to players demanding the same right as Mrs. Crawford. It was the unanimous opinion of the meeting that, should this situation arise, they would turn any such proposition down.

Don Turnbull's Chance.

"The Referee" continues:—"Well, the situation has arisen with Hopman demanding equal conditions with Mrs. Crawford. And to preserve their dignity and authority these gentlemen must refuse Hopman's demand. Then, unless Hopman backs down, the fourth member, recommended by the Selection Committee must automatically take his place."

"It is quite possible, therefore, that even at this late hour, Don Turnbull, the promising young South Australian player, will be requested to pack his grips."

INTERPORTERS' LAST GAME.

Against Strong Eleven at H.K.C.C.

TO-DAY'S BIG MATCH.

At the Hong Kong Cricket Club to-day the Interport eleven will participate in their last game in Hong Kong before travelling to Shanghai.

The following are the teams:—Interport XI.—E. J. R. Mitchell (captain), G. R. Sayer, J. E. Richardson, A. C. Hamilton, A. C. Beck, G. C. Burnett, E. F. Fincher, A. H. Madar, A. R. Minu, W. T. Patterson, and D. McLellan.

Rest XI.—A. Reid (H.K.C.C.) (captain), E. R. Duckitt (H.K.C.C.), L. T. Ride (University), N. E. A. Mackay (K.C.C.), F. D. Pereira (I.R.C.), A. Rodrigues (University), E. Zimmern (C.C.C.), E. C. Fincher (K.C.C.), E. L. Gosano (University), D. J. N. Anderson (University), and R. Lee (C.C.C.).

BRITAIN AND THE OLYMPIC GAMES.

Need of Intensive Training.

The British attitude towards athletics is a curious one. We can regard with complacency two University crews practising continuously for the Boat Race, yet we deride the slavish devotion of American athletes to training.

But it needs just as much preparation to take 100 men from London to Los Angeles as it does to send sixteen men from Putney to Mortlake.

The Englishman who trains rigorously to get the best out of himself at running or jumping seems somehow to have offended against the sporting code—to have stolen a march on his happy-go-lucky rival.

Different Attitudes.

We cannot have it both ways: if we salute the rowing Blue as the ideal of amateur sport, we should not condemn the man who exercises a similar preparation in other games as being beyond the pale. Even if we pity nations which do not adopt our own fastidious differentiation in the prestige accorded to various sports, we can hardly blame them for exercising generally methods which we reserve only for particular games.

We may be quite sure that no possible talent will be overlooked when the Americans choose their team for the coming Olympiad, and that there will be no untrained or immature element in their selection. Nevertheless, the Games at Los Angeles will be very different from those held in St. Louis in 1904 when, in the athletic section, a Canadian won one field event and a Greek was third in the decus, while in every other event Americans were first, second and third. This time there will be proper representation from other countries and I doubt very much whether the Americans will have even a proportional success for their full entry.

European Standard Improved.

Athletic improvement in Europe since the Great War has been phenomenal, and nowhere more thorough than in Germany. In this rivalry Great Britain has held her own in everything but field events, and we are rapidly improving in this direction, although we have not yet reached a standard which would give us a chance of success at Los Angeles.

In the track events, however, we are likely to be worthily represented. Page, Ebbelthard and Reid in the sprints, Ramping and Hampton for the middle distances, Thomas, Ellis and Corbett in the mile, and a galaxy of capable long-distance runners provide a solid foundation for the athletic section of the British team, while Burghley and Fibley should again keep up our hurdling prestige. A year ago Ramping was comparatively unknown, to-day he is probably the likeliest one of all to win at Los Angeles; we may therefore find when the 1932 season begins that other potential world-beaters have developed.

The occasional unfortunate incidents inseparable from so comprehensive an enterprise can be forgotten in the great sporting enthusiasm that has come to characterize these Games. The British-American Entente has been the chief author of success in previous Olympiads, and from July 31 to August 14, Los Angeles will witness more important than Geneva in discussing the world of international hostility.

As the mechanical "dash" enters its drive at the end of the race it will break under this new arrangement a connection which has been mechanically propelled, but lands in front of the following greyhound, and has sufficient impetus to follow along the ground and finish the race.

INTER-SERVICES TOURNAMENT.

Championship Won by Army.

AIR FORCE BEATEN.

London, April 5.

As expected the Army beat the Royal Air Force in the first game of the Inter-Services Tournament and won the championship in convincing style. It was a one-sided game for the greater part. The Army's triumph by 3 goals and 2 tries to a dropped goal was the more meritorious because for nearly all the game they were one short. Having dashed over for a try after six minutes A. W. Taylor left the field with a damaged collarbone. A. L. Novis went left centre, and F. C. Jackson was taken out of the pack to go on the wing. But the Army forwards held their own splendidly and packing 3-4 they secured possession just as often as their opponents.

The Air Force put up a stout fight but were inferior behind the scrum and outclassed at half. The capital understating between "W. W. Simpson and J. H. Cole, equipped with their individual ability, proved more than the Air Force could contend with. Army tries were scored by Taylor, Hobbs, Cole, Novis, and Crawford. H. J. Sayers, Novis and Hunt converting one each. Coote dropped the goal for the Air Force and narrowly missed placing two penalties. Williams scored for the R.A.F. Here is the table:

Inter-Services Tournament.
P. W. D. L. F. A.
Army 2 2 0 0 32
Royal Navy 1 1 0 1 22-16
Royal Air Force 2 0 0 2 9-43

IRISH FOOTBALL CLUES.

Sixteen for League Next Season?

MUCH DISCUSSED QUESTION.

Dublin.
Will the Irish League be extended to 16 clubs next season? That is a question that is being freely discussed, and there seems every probability that a resolution to that effect will be moved at the annual meeting, when there will be at least two, if not three, new applicants for membership.

The wider the field, the better for the game in Northern Ireland. That is the prevailing feeling, though some of the more prominent clubs have never been in favour of even a league of 14.

They hold the opinion that it would pay them better to have a smaller competition and meet each other oftener.

But it would be advantageous to have two more clubs—one from Belfast and one from the provinces.

It need not occasion any more clashing than at present, as the fixtures could be so arranged that three of the six clubs in Belfast could play at home, and away in alternate weeks.

There is, almost, sure, to be a change in the system of making the fixtures for next season.

DOG RACES TO END WITH FAKE KILL.

Certain Satisfaction for Greyhounds.

ADDED ENCOURAGEMENT.

Track greyhounds in London have for four years chased a mechanical hare endlessly around the course, and never caught it except with dire results to themselves.

Now things may be altered. Experiments have just been conducted at West Ham Stadium with a novel type of hare.

As the mechanical hare dashes into its drive at the end of the race it will break under this new arrangement a connection which has been mechanically propelled, but lands in front of the following greyhound, and has sufficient impetus to follow along the ground and finish the race.

It is hoped, and gives an impression to the dogs that the hare has been chasing has just caught it. This new device may definitely increase the interest and encourage the dogs running.

Shanghai Improvement.

The events in Shanghai during the past few days have been momentous and of vital importance. In fact the last week has been the most important period during the whole Shanghai incident, and viewed in retrospect the satisfactory turn of events is a matter for congratulation and relief. Commencing with the shocking affair at Hongkew Park last Friday, happenings were startling and sudden, and through the good sense and extreme peril and complications it was safely passed. The signing of the truce ensures stability of the present position at Shanghai and the maintenance of the peace that has existed since the cessation of hostilities. The truce agreement itself surprised most people by the extent of concession made by the Japanese, who have considerably amended their original attitude on the thorny question of withdrawal. That they would have agreed to immediate retirement of many of their troops, with the promise of effecting complete withdrawal within four weeks was not anticipated, and the concession undoubtedly contributed much to the arrival at agreement between the delegates. The Japanese concession is significant apart from the fact that it demonstrates the desire of Tokyo for a settlement, for it proves that Japan is satisfied that the position at Shanghai is stable enough to ensure reasonable security for the Japanese national residents in that city. The partiality effect in trade consequent upon the fighting at Shanghai has caused the attitude of the Japanese to change, and they are now more inclined to a peaceful settlement.

wrongs, real or imagined, is now a secondary consideration for the thousands whose means of existence depends on a quick return to normal in Shanghai trade and business. For the Japanese part there are many reasons why a settlement should be effected. Hostile world opinion to warlike aggressiveness, the apparent need for more troops to quell the disturbances in Manchuria, the futility of the Shanghai affair, and the cost of a long campaign all influenced Tokyo's stand, and explain the modification of the original policy.

In passing, a word of tribute to the foreign delegates who acted as mediators is due, and Sir Miles Lampson merits particular praise for his skilful handling of a series of conferences which in the earlier stages held little prospect of success. The commendable restraint of the Japanese Government following the bombing outrage tided over a situation that might have developed into an open and declared war, and the anti-Japanese feeling and sentiment was considerably lessened as a result. Sympathy is widespread with the victims of the affair, and it is pleasing to note that satisfaction is reported of all the patients. Mr. Shigemitsu was in a dangerous condition yesterday, but to-day's report is much more reassuring. Whatever one's views were of previous happenings, the bombing was universally condemned as a despicable and contemptible Japanese act.

The signing of the truce agreement does not entirely dispose of the many contentious matters and problems facing Chinese and Japanese leaders, but it clears the first and most pressing issue, and the harmony that attended the final conference lends support to the hope that subsequent negotiations will be conducted without serious conflict of opinion.

KOWLOON BOY DROWNED.

Choi Kwan-yee, a Chinese boy, aged 7 years, was the victim of a drowning tragedy just off the Kowloon coast yesterday. He was seen to fall overboard from a small boat, and his body was recovered by a fisherman. The boy was the son of a fisherman who was working on the boat. The tragedy occurred while the boy was playing on the boat. The fisherman who recovered the body is now being sought by the police.

FRENCH PRESIDENT ON VERGE OF DEATH.

A Biographical Note.
M. Paul Doumer, who lost five of seven sons during the Great War, at one time was Governor-General of Indo-China. He first came before the eyes of the outside world last year, by his dramatic defeat of M. Aristide Briand in the election for the Presidency. The result proved a bitter blow to Briand, and may have hastened his death, but it is generally realised that he lost the Presidency owing to the unpopular foreign policy he had pursued.

President Doumer, who was born at Aurillac, Cantal, on March 22, 1857, was educated in Paris. In 1887 he was "Adjoint au Maire" of the town of Laon, Aisne, and was elected a Deputy in 1888. From 1895-96 he acted as Minister of Finance, and the following year was appointed Governor-General of French Indo-China, a post which he retained until 1902.

On his retirement from the Orient he was elected President of the Budget Commission, and later, President of the Chamber of Deputies. In 1912 he was elected a Senator, and in 1917 Minister d'Etat. He has also been Minister of Finance (1921-22), Minister of the Senate (1927-31) and President of the Senate. He was elected President of France in 1931. President Doumer is the author of a book on French Indo-China and another on Metallurgy.

Britain Shocked.
London, Yesterday.
The British Official news of the attempted assassination of the President of the French Republic, M. Doumer, which occurred in Paris this afternoon, has deeply shocked public opinion here. The King, on being informed of the outrage, immediately telegraphed expressing his grave concern and sympathy and his earnest hopes for the President's recovery. Later the French Ambassador, M. de Fleuriau, was received by the King at Buckingham Palace. Expressions of sympathy of the Acting Prime Minister, Mr. Stanley Baldwin, and His Majesty's Government were formally conveyed to M. Fleuriau on his return from the Palace.

The outrage occurred in a house near the Elysee, where the President was attending a public exhibition of books by ex-soldier authors. The assailant, upon whom the infuriated crowd immediately fell, had to be protected by the Police.

THREE SHOTS FIRED.

Paris, Yesterday.
A Russian fired several shots at President Doumer's car in the Faubourg Du Rouff, while he was proceeding to the exposition Du Livre. The President was transported to Beaujon Hospital.

The Russian, who has been arrested, fired three shots at point blank range, all lodging in M. Doumer's abdomen. The President was immediately operated on. His condition is most serious.

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

The preliminary trial of Yuen Ning on a charge of sending two assassins to attack the President of the French Republic, M. Doumer, was held yesterday. The court found Yuen guilty and committed him to prison for trial.

She was rescued by Lo Shu-tai, coxswain of the motor boat "Africa," and taken to the Water Police Station, where she refused to be sent to hospital, preferring to return to her home at Tai Hang Village.

A notice was issued on board the s.s. President Jefferson, which arrived from Shanghai yesterday evening, that owing to the outbreak of meningitis in the Colony, no visitors would be allowed on board the ship, during her stay in this port. Large crowds of people gathered to meet the ship, but no intimation of the notice was given until about one hour after she had berthed at No. 5 wharf.

A mentally deranged Chinese male was carried on the President Jefferson, which arrived in Hong Kong yesterday evening. When the man embarked at Seattle, he appeared to be quite normal, but soon developed signs of insanity. He was transferred to the crews' hospital base on board the ship and kept there throughout the voyage. This was merely a precautionary measure, to prevent the man from jumping overboard. The man, who has relatives in the Colony, will be landed to-day.

ADVENTUROUS TRIP TO SINGAPORE

SAILED IN 12½-TON KETCH
FROM MACAO.

Ocean Cruising.

The Medea, a Swatow-built 12½-ton ketch, sailed by her owner and his wife, left Macao on March 1, stopping four days at Tourane and sundry nights on the open sea to allow her owners their much needed sleep, and arrived at Singapore on March 25, according to the Singapore Free Press.

The trip (Mr. A. J. Moore-Bennett, the owner, states) was without incident except for the wonders of the N.E. monsoon current off the Annam coast. Having made the Tourane landfall after two days of almost complete calms, Medea left the French port at 11 a.m. on the 12th and straightway ran into a stiff Southeaster that blew her off her course and hove her to for 40 hours, after which passage was resumed on the 14th for 20 hours when a strong N.E. monsoon replacing the S.E. wind (with all the high land covered in the murky haze and invisible from the sea) blew her nearly on to the Kolao Rai, causing her owners to drop two anchors in the hope that if she blew on to that inhospitable island the same would save her from destruction. With these two anchors down and 40 fathoms of chain on each, the ketch hove to under one mizzen sail, drove south down the Annam coast at the rate of 60 knots a day for two days, the ground tackle not being got aboard till the 16th, when sail being made Nathrang Bay was passed ten miles out at 5 p.m. and course set for Saigon at nightfall.

At the best Medea does not even exceed a stately six knots, having been built expressly for comfortable ocean cruising rather than for harbour racing. Judge, then, her owners' astonishment when at ten a.m. the next day Pulo Cerise de Mers was sighted ten miles off on the starboard bow, the log showing a distance of 87 knots in the 17 hours run and the chart a distance of 190 odd knots.

From then on the course was altered for Saigon but the next four hours proved the impossibility of trying to cross that ferocious current that flowed like a mighty river westwards and at 5 p.m. the course was altered for Singapore, the monsoon strengthening on the 16th and 17th to half a gale again causing the ketch to be hove to, on account of the tearing gear breaking down.

Anambo Islands.

The Anambo Islands were passed during the evening of the 23rd inst. and the hills on the Peninsula picked up at 2 p.m. on the 24th the net time for the trip, excluding time spent hove to and in port, being under 18 days in all.

After overhaul the ketch will continue on her way up the Gulf of Bengal into the Irrawaddy, thereafter resuming her leisurely cruise into European waters.

The Medea's owners have taken to the sea, being too poor to live on land during this time of passing dividends and high taxation, more than a hearty welcome. The Medea is 45 ft. 6 in. x 14 ft. 2 in. x 8 ft. 6 in. deep, ketch rigged with a 15 b.h.p. semi-diesel auxiliary, with tanks for 1 ton water and fuel for 900 knots radius. On the trip down her engine was run for an all-in total of 18 hours, mainly to generate light for the binnacle lamp but also to take us in and out of harbours.

HONG KONG TIDES.

The time used is Standard, or mean time of the meridian of 120 deg. E.; 00h. is midnight, 12hrs. is noon. The heights are referred to the datum of the largest scale Admiralty chart of the place and should be added to the depths given on the chart unless preceded by an asterisk (*), when they should be subtracted from the depths.

JAPANESE SHIP'S CARGO JETTISONED.

Ship Saved.

Although thousands of pounds' worth of wheat had to be jettisoned, a ship worth more than $100,000 was saved when the Japanese freighter Hayo Maru was towed off a sandbank north of Bunbury, after having been stranded for more than a week. The wheat was dumped overboard so quickly that it did not have time to float away, and when the boat moved off there were two piles of bagged wheat protruding above the water near her holds. The State motor vessel Kybra and the tug Uco pulled on towlines, and the Hayo Maru hauled on two anchors. At 11.30 she was felt to move, soon after noon she slid off the sand into deep water, and by 1.30 p.m. had sufficient steam to go to Bunbury under her own power. She was making water slightly, but the damage apparently was not serious.

Where Do You Hike?

[By Lt. Gen. Lord Baden-Powell of Gilwell.]

Many town living fellows never get to realise the beauty of Nature, because they so seldom see it. Their eyes are more trained to looking at shops, advertisements, other people, and "safety first."

But those who have to some extent lived with Nature, and have come to recognise its beauties, can even when they have to go in town, catch a glimpse of it in the busy streets.

At one time in my life I had to cross Westminster Bridge every day about sunrise and again at sunset, and scarcely a day passed when I didn't find myself standing at the gate at the bridge with the intense pleasure that one gets from the glimpse of the river and the city in the morning or the evening.

parting of day, and in the pearly grey and lilac tints of the hazy shadows and silhouettes which, thanks to the good old London smoke, are particularly noticeable there.

You can't get away from Nature even in towns; but better still, if you can do it, is to get away, out into the open, into the woods and meadows.

There, with your pack on your back and a staff in your hand, and with your little steed between your knees,

You can jolly well go wherever you please.

Out in God's open air, tramping about the country on week-end or holiday hikes, you can drink in the glories of earth and sky, and see, seeing the colour in the woods and fields, scenting the flowers and the hay, hearing the music of the brooks and birds, and of the wind, spring wind, setting to know the animals and their ways, and all manner of things that you are surrounded with, and that you are so much a part of.

of Nature.

I may be odd, but personally I prefer the winter to the summer for hiking. Plodding along on a hot day one gets awfully lazy and is rather apt to lapse into loafing. But on a good cold day, even if it blows and rains a bit, one can go striding on for ever, drinking in fresh ozone and reddening one's blood with a healthy glow all over, such as makes you proof against feeling sick or chilly.

Personally I take a walk every morning of two or three miles before breakfast, because in that way one can be warm and glowing and secure from cold feet or chilly fingers for the rest of the day.

And if one has a definite aim for a hike, such as Rover Scouts especially often have, it makes the miles slip by unnoticed, and at the end of it comes the blacksmith's happy consciousness of "something accomplished, something done" which "earns a night's repose."

Whether you are in town or country, the sky is always visible wherever you are walking. The clouds themselves make pictures and sometimes come to think upon.

Even now I have in my mind a sunset that I gazed upon nearly forty years ago, and still on the hills in South Africa.

Remember, display of a black and grey leading line, brilliant blue, blue, or red.

The Gateway through which those enter who "Go West." Has a sunset ever struck you in that way?

BLIND AND DEAF WORK TOGETHER.

The blind boys and deaf boys in the Scout Troop at the Vancouver School for the Blind and Deaf pair off for test work. The blind boys act as "ears for two" and the deaf Scouts as "eyes."

Surprisingly good work is done and Scout games are played. The boys have benefited greatly in mental outlook.

WEEKLY FREE MEAL TO POOR CHILDREN.

Traders of Inverness have given generous supplies of potatoes, meat, vegetables and pudding stuffs to the Inverness Rover Scouts, who have been running a weekly free meal for the poorer children of the town.

CUT WOOD FOR WIDOWS.

With the aid of some of their fathers, Boy Scouts of Inverness No. 48 of Inverness, are engaged in a weekly task of chopping down dead trees, splitting them and distributing the wood to the poor.

THE CURE FOR MISCHIEF.

"If all boys up to the age of 18 could be members of some corps, whether Ambulance, Boy Scouts, or Church Lads' Brigade movements, very little would be heard of juvenile delinquency."

Said Sir James Owen speaking recently at a meeting of St. John Ambulance Brigade, City of Edinburgh, Cadet Division.

"To-day magistrates are very much concerned about juvenile delinquency. Very often boys get into trouble and have to appear before the magistrates and are sent to some respectable home. They are a problem, because, although we recognise that in probably 90 per cent. of the cases there is no wickedness in the boys, the fact remains that, in the old days, Satan finds some mischief still for idle hands to do."

"Unless boys can turn to brigade or corps, which will keep them busy, and which will train and discipline them, the mischief will continue to do."

Sir James urged that the Government should make it compulsory for all boys up to the age of 18 to be members of some corps.

Long Ago Stories

Julia And Marcus

Julia was watching from the balcony. Her father and brothers were going to the festival of Diana, the goddess of hunting, and it was a fine sight to see them start. They were dressed in their best clothes, and their four beautiful hunting dogs wore new collars and garlands of fresh flowers round their necks.

Now the servants and slaves who remained in the house were busy cooking quantities of cakes, meat and vegetables, and gathering fruit in the orchard. So nobody saw Julia slip downstairs into the garden.

"It is not fair that Marcus should be left at home when the other dogs have gone," thought Julia. "I will make him a wreath."

Hastily she gathered some flowers and wove them together. Then she ran to the kennel. Marcus was a young, half-trained hunting dog of great value, and as she put the flowers round his neck, Julia spoke to him.

"You must hunt no living animal to-day, Marcus," she said. "It is the feast of Diana, and the wild beasts must be free to roam where they like. All Rome is gay, so why should we stay at home?"

She went bravely into the street, but the crowd was so great that she was frightened, and Marcus was so strong that he dragged the lead from her hand and ran away.

"Marcus!" screamed Julia. She had lost her father's beautiful dog! Like a wild creature, she ran screaming hither and thither. After a long time, she saw the temple of Vesta, the goddess of fire who protected Rome, and, running in, she threw herself on the floor and began to pull out her hair as a sacrifice to the goddess.

"Please give me back Marcus," she whispered. "A red dog — crowned with violets and roses."

Then a gentle maiden — a vestal who guarded the fire that never went out — picked Julia up; and Marcus, as frightened as the little girl he had been looking for, crept into the temple. The vestal took them both home, and Julia's father thought she had been sufficiently punished, so she went to the feast after all. But she was never disobedient again.

"I will go with Marcus," thought Julia suddenly.

"You must hunt no living animal to-day, Marcus," said Julia.

The streets were full of people on their way to the temple of Diana, and there was a great noise everywhere. Dogs barked with excitement, and processions of children, carrying fruit and flowers for Diana, passed by. Tears sprang to Julia's eyes when her brothers waved to her and walked away with the dogs straining at their leather thongs.

"I want to come," whispered Julia. She was eight years old, and had never been in the streets of Rome by herself. As there was some talk of rioting, her father would not take her to the temple, but promised her she should join in the feast which was to be held in the house and garden later on in the day.

"I will go with Marcus," thought Julia suddenly.

THE BILLY BOYS' WORKSHOP.

How To Make A Garden Chair.

This week I want to tell you how to make a strong little garden chair out of four pieces of thick wood and some battens.

The first parts to make are the side pieces A and B, which should be cut from wood three-quarters of an inch thick and six inches wide. For the sides A, saw off two pieces two feet ten inches long, and on one piece mark out the shape, as indicated in diagram C. Saw off the parts not required, and, after planing the edges, round one corner, as at D.

Now cut two pieces of wood, two feet five inches long, for the short sides B. Mark out one of the shape and size given in diagram E; then saw and plane this as you did the long side. Use these finished parts for marking out the other two sides A and B, and, after sawing them to shape, clamp each pair together so that the edges of the parts can be made to register.

Each pair of side pieces are fixed together with four screws, as shown in diagram F, so that the front of each support comes exactly twelve inches from the bottom of the piece A. The sloping bottom edge of part B must be in a line with the corresponding edge of part A.

Cut the slats for the seat and back of the chair from two-inch by five-eighths-inch battens. Those for the seat are sixteen inches long, and those for the back are nineteen inches, except the top one which is one inch longer, as indicated in diagram G.

WHEN MARIGOLD CALLED THE CATTLE HOME.

Marigold was a fairy who lived at the bottom of a lake and looked after the fairy cattle. But when the moon was new, she came out of the lake and allowed the cows, sheep, and goats to eat the sweet grass which the moon turned to silver.

Now one night a young farmer saw Marigold and her cattle wandering in the moonlight, and, knowing at once that the girl was no ordinary maiden, he plucked a branch of mountain-ash before he spoke to her. No witch or fairy could throw a charm on anybody protected by the mountain-ash, and Marigold smiled when she saw it in the young farmer's hand. She spoke to him very sweetly, and after that the farmer watched for her whenever the moon was new. At last he asked her to marry him.

"But you must never speak an angry word to me, or I shall go home," said Marigold.

"I never will," promised the young farmer.

So they married. And they were very happy and comfortable for a time, because Marigold brought her cattle to the farmer. Alas! she always burnt the currant bread when baking, and at last the young farmer lost his temper.

"What is the good of a fairy wife who cannot bake a currant loaf properly?" he cried angrily.

Then Marigold ran out of the house calling:—

"Old cow! White face!

"Greedy goat! Grumpy grace!

"Brindle! Black-sheep! Squint-eye!

"Short-horn! Fluster! Apple-pie!

"Little calf! Bad-old-sinner!

"Baa-lamb! Bull! First-prize-winner!

"All my cattle, young and old, Follow! Follow Marigold!"

And they followed her. And soon they had vanished once more into the lake. Sadly the young farmer watched for them every moonlight night, but they were never seen again.

Which just shows what angry words can do!

Fix the slats in place by a single screw at each end. Screw down the seat slats first, and then fix the back slats so that they overlap the sides an equal amount on each side, as clearly shown in diagram G.

The finished chair can be treated with a wood preservative, or it can be painted.

The Hut Carpenter.

WENDY'S LITTLE NEEDLEWOMEN.

One of the nicest things about cross-stitch work is its simplicity. You can make up your own designs, too, which is great fun. You will need a sheet of squared paper — one from an arithmetic book will do beautifully — to work out the pattern, and we have given the choice of three very simple ones to start with. When you get the idea, you can go ahead and plan original designs.

Diagram A gives you a very simple flower-and-leaf pattern, which is just the thing for embroidering on the corner of a handkerchief. There are four crosses for the actual petal-part of the "flower," with a central cross in a different colour to suggest the stamens. A red flower with a yellow centre and bright green leaves will look sweet; the stem is worked in back-stitching.

These diagrams will help you to follow Dressmaker's instructions for working cross-stitch embroidery.

Then there's a slightly more elaborate flower, shown in diagram B. A border of these in blue and red, with green leaves, will make a jolly decoration for the hem of a guest towel, or chair-back.

Diagram C gives you yet another notion: a perky black cat with a handsome curled tail, taking his dinner from a bright orange dish. This would be especially suitable for embroidering on baby brother's feeder, don't you think?

When you have decided what you're going to embroider, set about the work this way: On coarse-meshed material, such as heavy linen, you will be able to stitch your designs straight away, as you can easily see the different squares that go to make up the material. But on fine material you must tack a piece of white embroidery canvas wherever you want the decoration to be, and plan out the pattern on that. Take care to sew right through the two thicknesses of material. When you've finished, you'll find you can easily pull away the threads of the canvas, leaving the design on the linen. Diagram D shows cross-stitch being worked.

There's just one other thing you must remember when working cross-stitch: always have the stitches going the same way. That is to say, if you start with the underneath ones slanting from left to right, and the top ones slanting from right to left, you must keep that up all the time, otherwise the work won't look very neat.

Wendy's Dressmaker.

TINK'S CROSS-WORD PUZZLE.

The drawing beside last week's puzzle showed the letter P in an ace card and the letter N. This was rather hard, I know, but perhaps some of you managed to think out the name-word represented, especially as I told you it was the name of a man-of-war's boat. The word was pinnace. Full solution of puzzle:—

OUR SWEET-MAKING CORNER.

Lemon Nougat.

For this you will require one pound of lump sugar, half a pound of almonds, and one lemon.

Drop the almonds into boiling water so that you can easily remove the skins. Cut each into six pieces, or chop them if you like. Place them on a tin plate, and put them in the oven to heat through, but do not let them bake brown.

Now put the sugar into a saucepan with a good dessert spoonful of lemon juice, and allow it to melt gently. Stir carefully, and watch all the time in case it burns or discolours. When the sugar has disappeared, bring the syrup to the boil, cook it for three or four minutes, then remove the saucepan from the fire, and stir in the almonds.

A WHOLE WEEK'S NEWSPAPERS IN ONE.

The first investiture of the year took place at Government House, on May 2, a large number of guests being present.

The bright dresses of the ladies, mingling with the more conservative dress of the men, provided a colourful background for the ceremony.

The principal recipient among the honours list was Mrs. H. T. Creasy who received the M.B.E., others being Mr. Li Po-kwai, J.P., and Mr. Wong Kwong-tin who both received Certificates of Honour and Mr. Abbas Arculli who received the decoration of an Associate Serving Brother of the Order of St. John of Jerusalem. A full report of the occasion is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

With election day on May 10, the contest for the vacancy on the Sanitary Board is becoming keen. Dr. Li Shu-fan, a candidate, and Mr. F. C. Mow Fung, nominee of the Kowloon Residents' Association, have both made statements to the Press, outlining their policies and replying to the charges made against them.

Mr. Mow Fung repudiates the charge that he is interested only in Kowloon and Dr. Li Shu-fan outlines his past record and announces his policy.

Considerable interest is being evinced in the election, and much correspondence, involving letters from the candidates, are printed in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

A fine tribute to the sterling work of Mrs. H. T. Creasy, M.B.E., Vice-President of the Hong Kong Women's Guild and Ministering Children's League, was paid by the Patroness (Lady Peel) at the twelfth annual meeting held at Government House on April 29. There was a large attendance of members. Addressing the gathering, Lady Peel took the opportunity of thanking, on behalf of the members of the Committee, their President, Mrs. Creasy for all that she had done in connection with the Ministering Children's League and Hong Kong Women's Guild. The meeting is reported in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

Sub-Lieut. R. Tyrwhitt, R.N., of H.M.S. Orpheus, and second cousin of Admiral Sir Reginald Tyrwhitt, G.C.B., former C-in-C, China Station, was found dead at about 4.30 on the morning of May 3, at Stonecutters Island, with a bullet wound through his head. A report of the tragedy is given in the OVERLAND CHINA MAIL.

"THEIR MAD MOMENT"

Fiction lovers who have enjoyed the many stories of Basque life written by Eleanor Mercein, including her novel, "Basquerie," were treated to rare entertainment at the Central Theatre where "Their Mad Moment," Fox Romantic drama based on the novel and featuring Warner Baxter and Dorothy Mackall, opened for its final showings today.

Baxter is unusually charming in the role of Esteban, and imbues the character with a passionate sincerity that stamps it as a high point in his histrionic career.

Miss Mackall, too, has an unusually fine role, and her transition from a shallow society girl to woman of real depth of character and feeling is as well done as anything she ever has accomplished.

Many interesting backgrounds, including the beach at Biarritz, and the rugged peaks of the Pyrenees, are seen in the picture which is replete with both pictorial and emotional scenes of deep human interest.

To Hamilton MacFadden and Chandler Sprague, the directors, goes much credit for the admirable way in which they succeed, in following the book faithfully, bringing this tender love story to the speaking screen.

Splendid acting and authentic characterizations feature "Their Mad Moment" these details being in the hands of an exceedingly capable cast. ZaSu Pitts—Nance O'Neil and Lawrence Grant are numbered among the many famous names of both stage and screen, seen in the production.

"DELICIOUS"

Janet Gaynor's appearance before a magistrate charged with unlawful entry into the United States and infraction of the immigration laws, which makes her subject to deportation, is one of the dramatic high-lights of "Delicious." For melody romance now showing at the King's Theatre, the wistful little star shares honours with Charles Farrell.

This climactic sequence in the picture, dramatized with George Gershwin's thematic creation, "New York Rhapsody," symbolic of the magnitude, vigour, will-to-build and innate cruelty of the great metropolis, is comparable to no other original screen composition and is said to rank with the greatest bits of sustained dramatic action ever screened.

"THE NIGHT ANGEL"

The prices of wool and camel's hair should be very high if the amount of those materials worn by Edmund Goulding have anything to do with the market. Friends say, jokingly, that he has a corner on those materials.

While he was directing "The Night Angel," latest Nancy Carroll-Fredric March starring picture which comes to the King's Theatre on Sunday next, Goulding dispensed with shirt, collar, tie and coat and wore a slipover sweater instead. Goulding was the author-director of "The Trespasser" and "The Devil's Holiday."

ALEKO AND PANTHEA

Suppose your husband is false. Suppose you are deciding on making a change in business or planning a trip and you desired to know exactly the best thing to do. At the Queen's Theatre, Professor Aleko does odd little things, like answering your questions.

And through the aid of his assistant, Panthea, a dainty vision of loveliness, with coal-black eyes, Aleko sends the thoughts of his mind to the assistant and she answers the question.

His charming young assistant was under his instructions for more than five years before appearing on the stage. The other assistant, the tiny one, who is so pleasingly plump, spends hours of study every day in the art of mind-reading.

"KEPT HUSBANDS"

Packed with dramatic thrills and those not-always companionable cinematic elements, pulchritude and plot power, humanness and hilarity, "Kept Husbands" is keeping both husbands and wives enthralled at the Queen's Theatre.

This is the Radio Pictures' talkie with Dorothy Mackall and Joel McCrea featured, and a cast of stars of the silent films, staging brilliant "come-backs" in supporting roles, including Clara Kimball Young, Bryant Washburn, Mary Carr and Red Sparks.

"Kept Husbands" is a high-powered entertainment, and it moves so fast from beginning to end that its playing time seems only half what it is! The film is lavishly staged. It was directed by Lloyd Bacon. The story is an original by Louis Sarecky, who was associate producer. Alfred Jackson and Forrest Halsey adapted it to the screen.

"DANGER LIGHTS"

Development of a microphone that makes it possible to record dialogue through other sounds of greater volume has been announced by RKO studio executives.

Use of the new device during the filming of Radio Pictures' spectacular all-talking railroad drama, "Danger Lights," appearing to-morrow at Queen's Theatre, successfully demonstrates that it is the most revolutionary step forward since sound pictures were introduced.

It is called the RKO beam microphone and operates on the same basis as a searchlight. All sound within the beam is recorded with greater intensity than sounds originating outside the beam.

The beam microphone was used exclusively in recording exterior scenes of the picture, which features Louis Wolheim, Robert Armstrong and Jean Arthur. According to Clem Portman, recordist, it would have been impossible to record the realistic sounds of railroad operation, together with dialogue, without this device.

It was used abroad speeding trains and locomotives, in round-houses and yards where switching was in progress, yet the sounds of these operations were recorded as supplemental to dialogue.

NEW METHOD FOR URGING RACE HORSES.

Menace to Bookies.

London.—Many methods have been used to assist horses to win, apart from the dope and the ginger. Last year the old warrior Ballyscanlon was urged on with the aid of a tin rattle which consisted of a tin box full of stones, the playing of a barrel organ near the finish said to have spurred on one animal to victory, but this is eclipsed by the well known owner trainer, Boyle Davis, who stands at the winning post and whistles to his charges!

Davis will become a menace to the book-makers if his horses answer as readily as Potchkin did at Leicester!

Potchkin had proved a very false favourite both at Liverpool and Nottingham in the respective Spring Cups. It appeared as if he had only one speed, for although on both occasions prominent when entering the straight, he could pull out nothing extra when challenged. Mr. Davis is in the habit of encouraging his horses in their gallops by whistling to them from the finishing post when they are close home, and he evidently thought that he might persuade Potchkin to pull something extra at Leicester if he adopted these tactics. As usual Potchkin was among the leaders entering the straight and just when it appeared as if several would pass him, Davis drew out his whistle and blew a sharp blast. This had the most amazing effect, as Potchkin jumped forward and gained an easy victory, much to the dismay of the bookies of Leicester, who on similar terms had backed him at Nottingham.

Davis may find Potchkin back to back with him in another race, but he is not likely to find him as ready as Potchkin was at Leicester.

MACAO RACE MEETING TO-MORROW

SOME SELECTIONS FOR THE SEVEN EVENTS

SMALL FIELDS ENTERED

(By Wombat.)

The postponed Macao meeting from the 17th of April will take place at Macao to-morrow afternoon.

I am afraid that fields will be very much depleted owing to the near proximity of the Sixth
Extra meeting of the Hong Kong
Jockey Club and in consequence I am certain that very small fields will face the starter in most of the events. There may possibly be a scarcity of riders as I am informed that a large number of local riders will not be making the trip for this meeting. Messrs.
Frost, Pan, Stanton, Butler, Soares, Reidy and Ahern are some of the riders who will not be riding at this meeting.

In the opening event which is a race for novice riders we should see some good runners out for Valley Hall, Scappit, Sunbeau,
Tango, New King and Jupiter are all going and the winner is well hidden amongst this lot for none of them have any great form to their credit during recent racing. The second and third races will probably be a wash-out as far as starters are concerned as I cannot see what will start here considering the scarcity of ponies and the fact that there are two events in which the same entries are eligible. The Heungshan Stakes should provide a very good race with a fair field and

New King, seems to be the pick of this bunch. The last race should not be so bad as a field of six runners may possibly accept.

My selections:—

- 1st Race:—
Valley Hall.
Tango.
Sunbeau.
- 2nd Race:—

Shanghai, Yesterday.
Although the operation per-blood from an elder brother this afternoon, the condition of Mr.

Shigemitsu, whose life hung in the balance, showed improvement and it was stated at 11 p.m.
that he was out of danger.

Unless he suffers a relapse, doctors expect Mr. Shigemitsu to make steady, although slow progress towards recovery.

King's Theatre.

Marty Sands and Mildred Dawn,
the famous American Night Club dancers are appearing personally at the King's Theatre, after a successful season in New York.

When appearing at the Little Club in Shanghai they made a great hit, and following up their successes there, scored another triumph in Manila, their last place of call.
While in Manila they billed for their first appearance a comedy sketch with a dancing repertoire and eccentric dancing.

CHINESE YOUTH'S DEATH.

The death of a youth, Yuen Fook
(18) who died as the result of a fall from the second floor of 45
Haiphong Road, in the early hours of May 2 last, formed the subject of an inquiry held at the Kowloon
Magistracy yesterday afternoon, with Mr. J. A. Fraser sitting as Coroner, assisted by a jury, comprising Messrs. C. A. Wright (foreman), K. R. Mackaskill and E.
Wolf.

The Coroner explained that the Chinese was found by Jushiro
Tajima, a well-known local shoemaker, in the course of his rounds to see that everything was all right.
He found the Chinese on the second floor, asleep. He woke him up and hit him once with a stick. The man became afraid, and jumped out of the window. He was taken to the Kowloon Hospital where he died.
Dr. J. Mackie said that death was due to shock and internal haemorrhage.

After evidence had been taken,
the Jury returned a verdict of
"Accidental death."
